

UNDER CURRENT COVID 19 SCENARIO 2020

How satisfied are you with your current Work From Home arrangement?

What are the TWO biggest challenges you are currently facing while working from home?

How often do you keep to regular working schedule at home?

SURVEY- CRUX

While the competition to maximize the ‘top notch’ performance, the only way for companies to ensure their success is through the use of technology to augment these processes. A better outlook is based on companies expecting a positive economic viewpoint backed by high economic growth expectation, high domestic demand and low inflation. An increased number of Work from Home and controlled monitoring continue to keep the sentiment mild.

In order to manage overall pay budgets, companies are re-looking at their Work from home strategy and focusing on employee ease of work which will determine the success of the business over the longer term. As digitization becomes the new normal, companies are investing in these niche skills to stay relevant in the changing business scenario. Other trends that are slated to dominate the HR landscape include the adoption of flexible HR policies and working hours, and an uptick in freelance workers

In COVID – 19 lockdown phase we have highlighted what is the current Work from home scenario, How useful it can be and possible percentage of common issues that can occur in the current Work from home scenario. The survey portrays the percentage and graph to give an idea of them for the FY 2020-21. It can be seen due to Covid-19 Work from home phase there will be an impact in the from home environment which can create a barrier in the efficiency of work, also there will be more productivity due to flexibility of work.
