

Media Coverage

Publication	Date	Edition	Headline	Size
Mumbai Mirror ( Global Job )	18 Sep 2019	Mumbai	'9th Genius HR Excellence Award 2019'	2704

WORKPLACE BULLYING

Several studies have verified that increased stress and mental distress are possible psychological aftermaths of workplace bullying

Create a better workplace

WORKPLACE BULLYING is a global issue. It's not just a workplace problem; it's a social one. It's a problem that affects millions of people every day. It's a problem that is often ignored, but it's not. It's a problem that is often ignored, but it's not. It's a problem that is often ignored, but it's not.

The only way to stop this global problem is to work on the workplace bullying problem.

Another form of bullying, which is rooted into our social media.

read

WORKPLACE BULLYING is a global issue. It's not just a workplace problem; it's a social one. It's a problem that affects millions of people every day. It's a problem that is often ignored, but it's not. It's a problem that is often ignored, but it's not.

According to a new perspective, about 10% of people in the workplace are bullied. It's not just a workplace problem; it's a social one. It's a problem that affects millions of people every day. It's a problem that is often ignored, but it's not. It's a problem that is often ignored, but it's not.

The long list of factors contributing to workplace bullying is not just a workplace problem; it's a social one. It's a problem that affects millions of people every day. It's a problem that is often ignored, but it's not. It's a problem that is often ignored, but it's not.

It's not just a workplace problem; it's a social one. It's a problem that affects millions of people every day. It's a problem that is often ignored, but it's not. It's a problem that is often ignored, but it's not.