The economy, which declined last year due to the coronavirus epidemic, is slowly recovering. Employees who have faced disappointment over the pay hike last year may get good news this year. A survey has estimated that more than half of the companies in the country are preparing to increase the salaries of their employees. According to staffing company Genius Consultants '10th Hiring, Attrition and Compensation Trend 2021-22', with this impressive growth rate, the market is expected to be stable, and the companies will also relook at their business continuity strategy along with strengthening the workforce. This year, the increment scenario seems "welcoming with 59 percent of companies saying that increment is on the cards, which will range between 5-10 percent whereas 20 percent thinks increment will be less than 5 percent and around 21 percent thinks that there will be no pay rise in 2021 too", as per the study.
