

Media Coverage

Publication	Date	Edition	Link	Headline
Radium news	13 Aug 2021	Online	https://radiumnews.com/business-news/the-report-says-that-free-vaccination-may-revive-the-economy-and-provide-stable-job-opportunities/	The report says that free vaccination may revive the economy and provide stable job opportunities

Radium News

In addition, the report pointed out that this will help them provide a safe work ecosystem, and the inflow of job opportunities is stable.

The free vaccination program launched by the government may have a positive impact on the job market and the overall economy, because most interviewees believe it will help them provide a safe working ecosystem for their employees and provide stable job opportunities. Reports.

According to a report by Genius Consultants, a human resources solution provider, more than 87% of respondents believe that free vaccination campaigns can prevent these workers from re-migrating because they are also eligible for the vaccine.

In addition, the report pointed out that this will help them provide a safe work ecosystem, and the inflow of job opportunities is stable.

When interviewees were asked whether their views on the vaccination campaign would improve unemployment or revitalize the market, nearly 85% hoped that it would help bring about promising results.

The internal survey was completed online from July 1 to 31. 550 business leaders in VPs, presidents, CXOs, CEOs, CHRO and above industries were surveyed, including automotive and automotive accessories, banking and finance, construction and engineering, Education/teaching/training, fast moving consumer goods, hotels, human resource solutions, IT, ITES and BPO, logistics, etc.

The survey was conducted in 14 cities in India, including Kolkata, Chennai, Mumbai, Bangalore, New Delhi, Hyderabad, Ahmedabad, Lucknow, Coimbatore, Chandigarh, Jamshed Burguwahati, Bhubaneswar and Pune.

To read more click on the link