Mumbai: The Covid-19 pandemic has contributed to the exponential growth of the edtech sector which has resulted in a considerable number of recruitments in the sector, but experts believe that with the opening of schools, this upward trajectory is likely to consolidate . The pandemic has radically changed the way people teach and learn, and edtech funding has remained on the rise, leading to the adoption of advanced technologies, revenue growth as well as hiring, a said Aditya Mishra, CIEL HR Services Director and CEO.

PTI.

“We estimate that there are more than 10,000 active job vacancies at all levels and permanent positions in the industry. Apart from that, there are at least 50,000 temporary job vacancies in the industry. ‘edtech,’ he noted. However, the intensity of the action in terms of recruitments, investments and new registrations is expected to drop a bit as the physical model begins to function normally, he said.”Eventually the number of new start-ups in the space will decline. growth rates decline, momentum will continue as many schools and students are not yet covered by edtech.

"The New Education Policy (NEP) will continue to function as a facilitator for the growth of the sector. In the years to come, we will see a consolidation of the industry which will give birth to a few major players for each segment within the edtech," he said.

Edtech CEO and Founder Shantanu Roj said India's edtech industry has attracted huge capital investment and will continue to do so over the next few years.
